

Sovereign Order of Meterion Society

Special Committees, Honors and Provisions

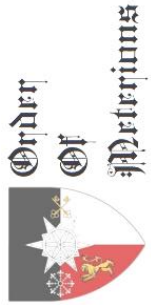

Special Committees. The Grand Meterion shall appoint, within a specified time of his installation, the following special committee which could include the following:

- (a) A personnel, team or committee which shall oversee or monitor any sort of initiations, installations of officers and others
- (b) Said task may not be limited to the previously stated and additional programs or functions may be given to the said members or individuals, given also the justification that said individual or member has the capacity to hold the specified position
- (c) All task that is delegated and appointed to the said personnel or individuals should be both legal and discreet notwithstanding their personal liberty or right to decide on certain matters which could be personal, private and confidential
- (d) Auxiliary and support groups which normally work and function in a separate manner and way with how the regular or normal members may be elected, selected or at certain times randomly generated when deemed necessary, said task are considered of urgent importance or necessity that such members and groups need to be assembled
- (e) The special auxiliary members and groups may have wide expertise in other matters which could aid the organization as a whole, said skills and technical knowledge would include special topics such as International Law, Commerce and Finance, Human Outsourcing and/or Employment, and others which might not be directly mentioned in this document
- (f) Those who would be considered as members of the alternative committee and group may receive additional compensation and benefits not limiting to transactions such as receiving monetary allowance, rewards, honors, medals, and others
- (g) The Grand Meterion and/or Grand Meterion-Emeritus by virtue of his office is considered a member of the previously stated committees

Honors, Ceremony and Awards

This topic and subject is appointed as a scheduled task to the members and officers of a particular chapter, area or location. Said list of honors and awards may vary per location, area or continent but would keep the regular motif and theme of the Sovereign Order of Meterion Society.

Such awards could be listed or detailed as exemplary in service , achievement of a certain degree, gratuitous awards not limiting to monetary values or benefits, and others. These details could still be subject for further upgrade, enhancement and agreement with the existing members who could possibly coordinate a rendezvous or meeting in a private and discreet way

Provisions and Miscellaneous Regulations

This would be under the justification of an essential member, officer, employee, Grand Meterion, and/or an coordinated action of a private meeting not superseding the previous actions or decisions of the Arch Grand Meterion, unless when it is deemed necessary given that prior notice was also been sent or notified

- (a) Deviation from the regulated and promulgated custom or rites which is established by the Sovereign Order or the International Meterion Society, shall be minimized, observed, and controlled
- (b) The wearing of emblems which could be in the form of a regalia, medal or others in improper places shall be minimized, but not to the extent that the said member has the necessity of showing his or her identity as an affiliation with the International Meterion Society, and/or Sovereign Order of Meterion Society
- (c) Activities of a member which would disrespect or discredit the good reputation of the Sovereign Order and/or International Meterion Society shall be prohibited. Said actions or events would still be under a certain process of being scanned, monitored, or will undergo a process which could be legal and discreet not withholding the personal safety, liberty and privacy of the said individual involved
- (d) A member who has rightfully acquired any form of material or tools which is deemed as inherent to his or her status as being a member of the Sovereign shall remain intact, and such member shall not be deprived of his or her personal right with regards to his or her tool, regalia, uniform and others
- (e) A member may attend to any occasion or ceremony which could be private by nature not forsaking his or her personal safety, liberty, rights, and privacy. This would include instances wherein said occasion could be out of the scope of organization's normal function and said event could rather be private and personal by nature
- (f) A member or individual shall retain ownership and rights with any previous possessions, items or equipment which could have been personally entrusted to him or her; not limiting to ideas or items which could be tangible or intangible by nature, wherein said detail might not be directly listed in this document
- (g) Details listed in this document may be amended given that certain area, locations, or continents have their own set of rules, customs or traditions. This is stated that the members are given the certain capacity and mobility to act and decide with certain matters that could be personal by nature and/or enact certain action which doesn't compromise his personal safety, rights and privacy

Disclaimer and addendum: All details and information stated in this document are subject for further editing, improvement and upgrade once the said objectives and intentions have been accomplished which includes each and individual members, families and affiliates. These documents may be amended as when it is deemed necessary, not subjugating the primary intention in which the Sovereign Order of Meterion Society is established.